H. C. MINTER.

H. B. RICHARDSON

J. E. MONTGOMERY

FOR REPRESENTATIVE

HON. R. T. MOREHEAD

STATE SENATOR

DR. JOHN S. WALLACE

If the democratic voters of this congressional district ever needed the services of an influential member of the lower house, it is now when the administration policies are in process of completion. Who can imagine what would befall the party two years hence if a majority in the house the next congress should be republican, half baked democrats or totally inexperienced new members? Leave out the question of postoffice appointments, for is not the efficient support of the party's policies above the ambition of any one to acquire an easy and good paying job? Leave out the question of the length of time Judge Rucker has served, for is not the accomplishments of a congressman of more importance to the people than the ambition to defeat him possessed by a man who was unanimously rejected for the place? Leave out the question of the amount paid in all the years, for are there not hundreds of men employed by corporations and individuals whose salaries are as much for a year as a congressman gets in 10 years for serving the people and whose interests he must guard against the other? The situation in a nut shell is this; Judge Rucker has made a perfectly clean record and attained a most enviable position in the councils of the democratic party; he has never been charged by his party or the people in his district with being recreant to any trust, but on the contrary his ability has challenged, not only the endorsement of such high authority as President Wilson, Wm. J. Bryan, our senators and Ex. Gov. Folk, but the respect of those in the other great party, Mr. Taft, Uncle Joe Cannon, Roosevelt and others of the highest attainments; he was and is a leader in the difficult undertaking of securing for the people the right to select their high officers by direct vote, that for which they have been clamoring for decades; he is more necessary to the nation and the democratic party now than at any other time during his career as congressman, for who cannot see that if the President has to deal with new recruits the next term, his task will be more than doubled, democratic measures retarded until their operation will not be fully understood before the next national election and the prospects of the party for re-election of president seriously affected. There is no dissatisfaction whatever with Judge Rucker further than that engendered by those who desire his place and such as they may cajole into the belief that the office is one to be passed around regularly regardless of the interests of the public. In the light of the benefits to the district since Judge Rucker has been serving it as against all that was realized before because of the failure to re-elect some of the good men we have had until they could gain a reputation among their fellow members, can we act rationally and do otherwise than send him back to serve us again? Is it not the poorest time in the world to talk about swapping horses, especially with an itinerant trader like Jim White:otten?

Out of 62 papers in the district, 16 are supporting Farmer Jones against Judge Rucker. Only three democratic papers of consequence are supporting Mr. Jones, The Chillicothe Constitution, Huntsville Herald and Brookfield Argus. The Constitution has always been against Rucker and he has never failed to carry Livingston county; the Argus is against Judge Rucker because Charlie fancies that he has a grievance, when as a matter of fact he should realize how he has been favored by the Judge; The Herald editor never did like the Judge and has fought him bitterly with about the same results in Randolph county that followed the Constitutions' opposition in Livingston. We should have mentioned the Appeal at Paris also, but refrained for obvious reasons.

The widow of James Colley, the school teacher, afterwards became Mrs. Joy, whose 72 acre farm was acquired by John D. Taylor, candidate for the state senate, for what at first was claimed as her part of the attorneys fee in the settlement of her fathers estate, the claim against her being understood to be $15, the costs added making it about $30. Pretty good financing, if the $15 swelled in a few weeks to $1500.

John D. Taylor says that he offered Mrs. Joy, formerly the widow Colley, the farm he bought at the foreclosure sale he procured, if she would pay about $137, when the fact is that she deposited $100 bonus money, in gold, for him, if he would deed the farm to her. He was importuned by friends to let her have the farm, but he didn't, did he?

Yes, the widow Colley married a big man and is Mrs. Joy known here almost universally as the widow and almost invariably spoken of as such. But whatever her name, she is the woman whose fine farm went for a little attorneys fee she did not think she owed.

For Sale

A good surrey or work horse. A bargain if taken at once. Also surrey and harness. 26

Farms For Sale

Having located in the Ozarks I have several farms for sale from $15 per acre up. Will meet you at train any time. Grant Smith, Richland, Mo., R. F. D. 2.

Will all the vituperation, inuendo, billingsgate and rot vented publicly and privately by John D. Taylor against others, restore the widow Colley's farm to her, or wipe out the stain left by his undertaking to plant in this community the Reform School for Negro Girls for a big rake off?

For Sale

One of the best Groceries and Meat Markets in Chariton county will sell for part cash, exchange balance in house and lot, a farm close to R. R. station. Address Lock Box 184, Keytesville, Mo.

Why does not the "distinguished" attorney who is running for the senate make some allusion to the Pat Thrash farm he got in about the same way he did the widow Colley ranch? Is it because of the judgement for fraud against him in the latter case and the decree which ordered him to deliver back to Thrash what he had got by fraud?

Salisbury Scribblings

On Friday night a dwelling house on 1st street owned by Asa Tate, occupied by Charles Wesberger, was badly damaged by fire, but not entirely consumed owing to efficiency of the fire department. Loss on both building and contents covered by insurance. The origin of the fire is unknown but it seems to have started in a closet.

Homer Bowman of Jacksboro, Texas has been here on a visit for several days.

John F. Crawford sold his fine 71 acre farm south of Keytesville to J. W. Utz for one hundred and twenty five dollars per acre. Who says Chariton County dirt is not valuable?

J. O. Snyder and J. W. Trent have both been on the sick list for several days as a result of heat and overwork.

There was a big crowd here Saturday evening to hear the speaking and take in the sights. Roy W. Rucker led off with one of fine characteristic speeches that greatly pleased the audience and was followed his opponent in which he claimed to have but one issue and that the "Third Term". He made a neat presentation of his cause and got liberal applause when he made a good point. Rucker closed in a short but eloquent speech that clinched his first effort. Both speeches were well received by the big crowd and next Tuesday will decide which made the best impression. R. P. Clarkson the old war horse, followed in a short sensible speech but the crowd was hot and somewhat tired and many did not wait to hear the close, the scribe being one, Broadway was one seething mass of autos and people.

M. D. Bell the Express man has leased the Hammond Lyric Theater and opened up Tuesday night.

J. C. Curran of Pomona, Calif. is here on a visit to the Warner family. His wife has been here for some weeks.

Word has been received here from Warrensburg, Mo. of the serious illness of Geo. Richardson formerly of this place who moved to that city some years ago. Later reports say he is some better.

Ben Loeb of Ottawa, Kansas is here on a visit to his mother, Mrs. Leon Loeb.

Miss Esther Houston an attractive young lady from Mexico, Mo. here on a visit to her sister Mrs. Kate Hammond.

Mrs. Alle Gallemore and daughter Genevieve went to Moberly on a visit Wednesday.

Complaint is made of night prowlers stealing fruit in the east part of town and it may take a load of shot to stop them.

J. W. Staples has sold his delivery business to R. J. Mansfield and will seek another job. We are glad he will remain will remain with us.

Arnsperger Bros. are building a big barn on their farm west of town. They are hustlers.

Work on the ice plant is progressing rapidly and we can feel a cool breeze coming from that direction as we write.

Doctor Williams wears a smile clear across his face since his wife and daughter returned from an extended visit to South Mo.

John Cooper the livery man brought suit against a Chicago man for abusing a team hired to him. Justice S. F. Trammell rendered judgment by default for $200 and the next thing is to get the money on it.

John Beltz who was over come by heat one night last week is not getting on well but all hope for his recovery.

We deeply sympathize with Mr. and Mrs. Lehnhoff in the death of their daughter Hildred but the poor child had suffered so long that death was a relief to her.

What will it boot a lawyer if he gets all the widows farms in the county on small fees and loses coveted political jobs?

Miss Madge Taylor departed Saturday afternoon for Columbia where she visited her cousin Tom Cook, who is attending school there.

M. S. Walther went to the new of George Bucksath this week and tinned the roof. He found it a hard job. The new Bucksath home is a large one.

Pumps are in great demand at this season. The weather is hot and people and stock must have plenty of water. The result is that the pump surveyors are busy.

Ben Agee went to Moberly Sunday expecting to remain several days or a week. He visited with Mr. and Mrs. Chilcott and attended the fair. Jim Rucker worked for Agee at the Herring drug store.

Sam Ziemer returned Saturday afternoon from the new home of George Bucksath in Bowling Green to spend the Sabbath with his family. He has been working out on the Bowling Green bottoms all summer.

Till Scott and wife of Mike accompanied by Rob Guthrie and wife motored to Brunswick yesterday for a visit to Will Robinson and family.

If all the widows who marry again and undertake to manage their own little property are to be legitimate prey for predatory lawyers, hadn't they better stay single and ward off cupidity with their famous smiles?

Speculation is being made on the time it will require to finish the school house. Few people think it will be finished and equipped before the first of December making the opening about three months later than usual.
